Stirling Castle is arguably the most impressive and historically important castle in Scotland. Seen for miles around, its imposing position has played a hugely strategic role throughout the centuries. The Glass Passage

Whisky divides people. You either love its fiery warmth or detest its full-on flavour. Either way, there's a reason why it's Scotland's national drink and our biggest export. Whether you fall head over heels for our finest dram or banish it to the back of the drink's cabinet, at least you can say you've tried it on Scottish soil and seen a little of our sexy country along the way.

We depart Edinburgh in the morning and make our way to the Kelpies, a gigantic monument to horse-powered heritage across Scotland.

We head deeper into the Highlands, where you can either dive into an awesome whisky distillery tour and taste a dram of Scotland's famous national drink, or explore the little market town of Crieff, packed with quirky shops and cosy cafés.

After soaking in the stunning views of the Sma' Glen, we'll hit The Hermitage forest in Perthshire for a beautiful woodland walk through rivers and waterfalls. We wrap up our day in the charming riverside village of Dunkeld to grab a local treat or two. We return to Edinburgh in the early evening hours.

DAY 3 | ISLE OF LEWIS

An awesome day of sightseeing on the Isle of Lewis awaits. First, we visit Dun Carloway, before delving into island life in the 17th century at Gearrannan Blackhouse Village. On our way back to Stornoway, we get the chance to see The Butt of Lewis and its lonely lighthouse by the cliffs. (Overnight: Stornoway)

DAY 4 | STORNOWAY → PORTREE

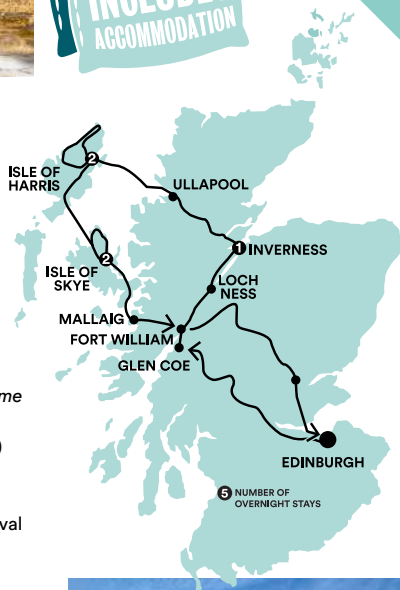

On departure from Stornoway, we marvel at some straight-out-of-a-fairytale beaches before catching the ferry over the sea to the Isle of Skye, where otherworldly landscapes and jaw-dropping coastlines await. (Overnight: Portree)

DAY 5 | ISLE OF SKYE

Today is all about soaking up the magic of Skye and its neighbouring gems. Expect epic views of the Cuillin Mountains from Sligachan Bridge, a visit to Scotland's most romantic and photographed castle; Eilean Donan, and iconic landmarks such as the Old Man of Storr and Kilt Rock. (Overnight: Portree)

DAY 6 | PORTREE → EDINBURGH

After crossing the sea back to the mainland, it's time to board the Hogwarts Express (optional) and travel on one of the world's most scenic railway journeys to Fort William. Reunited with your legendary guide and tour bus, we continue our journey south through the Cairngorms National Park, arriving into Edinburgh in the evening.
